Prologue

Hasty actions are never wise because they lack the seasoning of Time to make them perfect. Our beacon light in compiling this book has been that fact. We have endcavored to record the school year as it will seem to us later, trying to add the element of Time to make this Annual an outline to which your memories shall be a supplement. Then, if our judgment has not grossly failed, the two together shall comprise a priceless source of pleasure.

Dedication

The first day in high school was an especially pleasant one for the Class of 1928 because of the friendship and genial personality of Mr. Fribley. In reminiscing, we find that he has remained likable and helpful to us every day during the past four years, and we believe this attitude has been spontaneous, not prompted by his duties as Principal. We know that the class is better for having had his constant interest and we therefore dedicate to Mr. Fribley this book, The Follies of 1928.

School Life Humor

To Freshmen an entrance, to Seniors an exit, to and from four memorable high school years.

The gymnasium doors disclose sports which tend to widen outside interest in the high school.

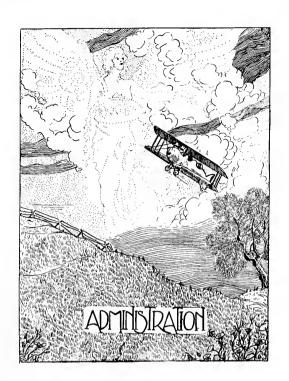

The library and its pleasant grounds make studying and theme writing much less burdensome.

Botany students have learned to appreciate the variety of leafy vegetation found in Eckhart Park.

Warm weather finds smoke curling above Gramling's woods where groups hold frequent wiener-roasts.

Administration

From the beginning of our high school trip, the responsibility for our success has been largely left with the Administration. Faculty members were required only to instruct us, but they have done not just the essential but whatever tended to make school pleasant for us. Their indispensability is plain if we consider that a member of the Administration supervises every extra-curricular activity. It is hard to distinguish between the essential and the extra services as long as we are accustomed to both, but if the voluntary assistance of the Administration should cease, school would be a long, unpleasant trip.

School Board

H. L. Brown

All students know Mr. Brown and are glad they do. He always bossts the Auburn High activities in every way. Through his dependable judgment the school has gained much.

Willis Rhoads

Mr. Rhoads wins many friends through his liking for the High School boys and girls. Although this is but Mr. Rhoads's second year on the School Board he has done much toward furthering high school interests.

H. W. Timbrook

Another of the High School's able directors is Mr. Timbrook. Whenever there is any need for help he is always ready to offer his. Students especially know him for the friendly smile with which he greets everyone.

Faculty

H. L. McKenney, B. S., A. B. Superintendent

> Valparaiso University Wisconsin University Indiana University University of Chicago University of Cincinnati

Mr. McKenney's efficiency and unfailing interest have made the school a success in all lines of endeavor. To him we owe the splendid accomplishments of the year and the co-operation between the departments of school work.

Everybody knows "Judy" as the pleasant girl who comes to call fortunate pupils from their classes to the telephone. It is she who copies the grades and keeps the books; she performs the duties of clerk very well.

E. F. Fribley, A. B., A. M. Principal

DePauw University Columbia University

Under Mr. Fribley's supervision Auburn High has attained a high rank in all activities. Mr. Fribley is interested in all of the phases of school life and is always ready to give aid and advice whenever needed. His help was invaluable as advisor for The Follies.

History

Frank W. Weathers, A. B.

DePauw University Muncie Normal University of Chicago

Mr. Weathers has done much for Auburn High. He has organized and spensored the History Club and was faculty advisor for the Seniors. He is a very good history and economics teacher but his failing is "pop quizzes".

Ruth Anne Foulke, A. B.

Earlham College University of Chicago

Miss Foulke is very good to have for a friend as well as for a teacher. She is very well liked. She teaches Sophomore history, business English, commercial arithmetic, and typing, and does each very well.

Donald Coar, A. B.

Indiana University

Besides giving instructions in arithmetic, solid geometry and advanced algebra, Mr. Coar helped to coach the boys' basketball team. He is a good sport and full of pep and loyalty.

English

Gladys Duguid, A. B.

Indiana University Michigan University Columbia University

Besides teaching English, Miss Duguid has succeeded in making her French classes a great success. She conducts them in a practical way which gives the students knowledge of French accent and idioms.

Tri State College Indiana University University of Chicago

As school librarian Miss Dawson merits a great deal of credit. This is the first year that there has been a regular librarian. Her Junior and Senior English classes are very interesting, and give the students a very good knowledge of literature and the foundations of culture.

DePauw University University of Wisconsin

The success of the Junior-Senior play last fall was due mainly to Miss Morton's remarkable coaching. She also has been in charge of the Chatterbox, and has maintained a high standard for the school publication. Her public speaking classes are very interesting.

Vocational

Charles G. Hornaday, B. S. A.

Purdue University

Mr. Hornaday's boys usually win prizes for their work in agriculture. This reflects their instruction. He is always interested in anything that will promote the good standing of the school, and is well liked for his loyal spirit.

Maryl Smith, B. S.

Purdue University Indiana University

Miss Smith is an authority on dressmaking and style, and this accounts for the success of her sewing girls, several of whom have won prizes. The record of her summer club work is very commendable.

Valda Eichholtz, B. S.

Winona Summer School
Columbia University
Purdue University
Indiana State Normal, Terre
Haute

The cooking department has done very good work under Miss Eichholtz, and she has been instrumental in serving hot lunches every noon. Let those who partook of them attest to their flavor! Her classes have made excellent progress.

Commercial

Clyde M. Gumpp

Manchester College Indiana University Drake University Indiana State Normal, Muncie

Mr. Gumpp's typing classes are known for their speed and accuracy; his shorthand students for translating their notes with the greatest ease. He has produced some good commercial workers in his two years here.

Indiana State Normal University of Marseilles, Marscilles, France Indiana University

As science teacher Mr. Schooley can't be surpassed. Moreover, he has a very agreeable disposition which has won him many friends in high school. The moving picture machine adds interest to his instruction.

Gladys Brackmier, A. B.

Indiana University

This is Miss Brackmier's first year here. We hope it is not her last for she has done very good work in her botany classes. The work is made very interesting, and the pupils like the study and its teacher.

Manual Training

Isaac Cosper

Tri State College Purdue University Wisconsin University

Mr. Cosper very capably furnishes instruction in manual training, and his work is increasing in quality and quantity all the time. A new addition to the Wood Shop has given more room for this department.

Latin

Maude S. Armstrong

Michigan State Normal Syracuse University University of Chicago

Miss Armstrong surely knows how to teach Latin to the underclassmen, and those who go on with a third or fourth year of Latin are deeply appreciative of her intimate knowledge of it and of her skillful and interesting ways of presenting it to the student.

Art

Lydia Sellers

Teachers' College, Indianapolis Applied Art School, Chicago Butler University

Miss Sellers's competent instruction in art work is shown in the posters her class makes for the plays and operettas. Her advice on color schemes and costumes is always eagerly sought and followed. Her pleasing personality makes everyone her friend.

Physical Education

Cecil Young, A. B.

DePauw University University of Illinois University of Michigan

"Zeke" has succeeded in making very good teams for Auburn High. He is known for his pep and enthusiasm when any activities are concerned in which A. H. S. features. We were fortunate in keeping such a good coach this year.

Thelma Burkhead

Tri State College Indiana University Indiana State Normal, Muncie

Miss Burkhead has coached the girls' team through a very successful basketball season. She entered into all the activities of the school and has helped in making McIntosh High known. She is liked by everyone.

Margaret Hixon

Indiana University Northwestern University

Miss Hixon was new to the school this year but she certainly has put life into the music department. The operetta "Peggy and the Pirate" was a big undertaking and she handled it very well. The programs put on by the glee club and orchestra were always artistic and thoroughly enjoyed.

Summary of Administration

Though the pupils are the largest element in school life, Auburn High would be a very poor school were it not for the constant interest and faithful administration of the school board and faculty. For this the Administration deserves our enduring regard and respect.

There were several changes in the faculty in the past year. Miss Valda Eichholtz took the place of Miss Naomi Christen as teacher of domestic science. When the students returned to school last fall they found that Mr. Donald Coar was filling the place of Mr. Sanders, former mathematics teacher, and was ready to drill into their heads various and sundry information about the unknown quantity. Miss Sue Morton taught Sophomore English this year instead of Miss Middleton. Besides being director of the Junior-Senior play and coaching the Interscholastic contestants Miss Morton supervised the Chatterbox as its Editor-general. The success of the girls' basketball team this year has been due to Miss Burkhead, who filled Miss Jane Eagles' place. Mrs. Wolfrom, who was our music instructor last year, was supplanted by Miss Margaret Hixon whose programs were always enjoyed. Aside from these changes, the personnel of the faculty has remained the same.

Charge of the school library was given to Miss Dawson, and under her management it has been put in order, additions have been made, and great improvement made generally.

Mr. Weathers, as sponsor of the History Club, devoted much time and work to its direction, thus insuring its success.

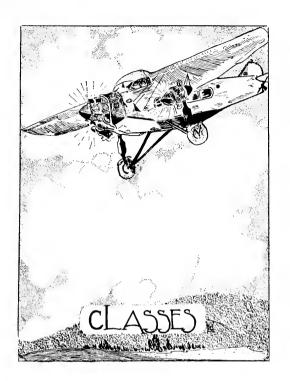

Under Mr. Hornaday's training several of his pupils attained very high standing in vocational work.

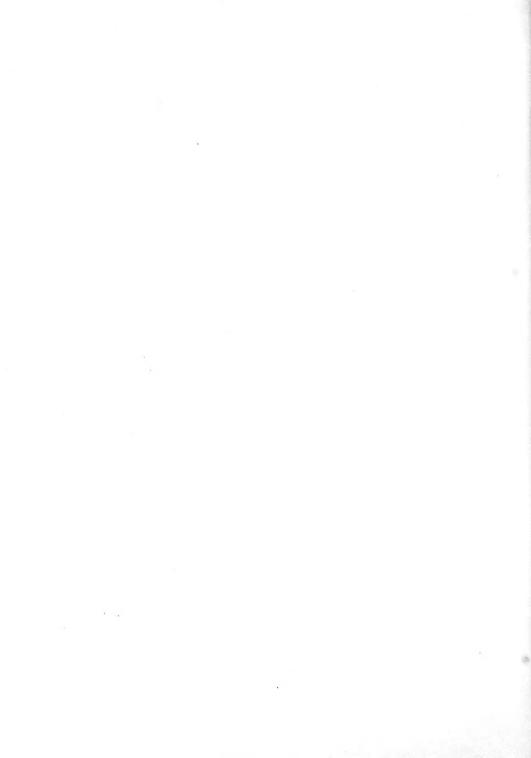

Miss Foulke and Mr. Gumpp have promoted the commercial work and produced some very good office workers.

Miss Eichholtz, though this was her first year in Auburn High, accomplished much in home economics work. The last semester her class in cooking served hot lunches, consisting of one savory, digestible dish. This was very good and convenient for the students who came from the country. Similiar work was done by Miss Smith's class during the first semester.

A new addition to the wood-shop was built, giving Mr. Cosper more room for his work in Manual Training.

The school board and the faculty, including the superintendent, the principal, clerk, and the eighteen instructors, have been most efficient and have aided the students in their quest for education. They made this a banner year for Auburn High School.

Classes

Our trip through high school years has been eventful because of those who took part. At the takeoff for the flight only one group of adventurers was included, the Seniors. They did not lose courage, but stayed throughout the royage and are consequently wiser and more experienced than when they started. Another class joined the flight later, and so we have the Juniors. Not until the journey was half completed did the Sophomores and Freshmen come aboard with the rest, and hence they have much to learn. On the following pages we shall tell more about those we have mentioned above.

Class Presidents

Edward K. Mayfield

He from whose lips divine persuasion flows

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4, A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Discussion 1, 2, Oration 3, 4, Hi-Y Club 1, 2, 4, President 2, Chatterbox Staff 2, 3, 4. Advertising Manager 2. Business Manager 3. Follies Staff 3, 4. Business Manager 4. History Club 3, 4. Commercial Group 4. School Play 3, 4. Class President 1, 3, 4. Treasurer 2.

The Senior class made a wise choice when it elected Ed President. His splendid business ability has made this year a success for the class as well as for the Follies of '28.

Dayton Rieke

In idle wishes fools supinely stay; Be there a will, wisdom finds a way.

Be there a with total final at rady.

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3. Class President 3. A. A. 1, 2, 3.

Basketball 2, 3. Football 2, 3. Track 1. Operetta 2.

Chatterbox Staff 3.

Dayton is a prominent member of the Junior class, and was of course elected President last fall when the class organized.

Marion Trovinger

Good sense, which only is the gift of Heaven.

Though no science fairly worth the seven.

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3. Class President 1, 2. Operetta 1, 2. Property Manager 1.

Marion is a capable, willing person, always ready to oblige and glad to be of service. The Sophomores were fortunate in their choice of a President when they elected him, for he has been an efficient officer, and has superintended the business of the class with fine success.

Joe Miller

Care to my coffin adds a nail, no doubt, And every grin, so merry, draws one out.

A. H. S. 1. Class President 1.

When the Freshmen entered high school last fall they chose Joe as their leader. It was very important to make a good start in their first year, and they owe their success to Joe's management.

Senior Honor Students

Mildred Berringer

And still the wonder grew

That one small head could carry all she knew.

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Honor Roll 1, 2, 3, 4. Glee Club 3, 4. History Club 3, 4. Chatterbox 1, 2, 3, 4. Follies Staff 4. Contest Chorus 2, 3. Operetta 1, 2. Commercial Group 3, 4.

Mildred has been one of our best scholars for all four years, and a loyal member of the class of '28.

Jean Davenport

My mind's my kingdom.

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Class Secretary 4. Operetta 2, 3, 4. Junior-Senior Play 4. History Club 3, 4. Glee Club 2, 3, 4. Chatterbox Staff 2, 3, 4. Follies Staff 4. Contest Chorus 4. Reading 2. Pledge Drive Revue 4. Honor Roll 1, 2, 3, 4.

Though she is a studious person, she is full of fun, and has found time for outside activities too.

Joanna Rhoads

Life is a jest and all things show it.

I thought so once and now I know it.

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4, A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4, Basketball 3, 4, Operetta 1, 2, 3, Glee Club 1, 2, 3, Contest Chorus 2, 3, History Club 3, 4, Cheer Leader 3, 4, Annual Staff 4,

Much of our pep at basketball games this year has been due to Jo. She is a lively member of the class and is ready to do anything for anyone. She's a good sport and a good scholar.

Grace Barnhart

The thing that goes farthest towards making life worth while,

That costs the least, and does the most, is just a pleasant smile.

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. Operetta 1, 2. Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4. History Club 3, 4. Commercial Group 4. Honor Roll 1, 4.

The above lines describe Grace pretty well, for she is not afraid of work and always goes ahead with a smile,

Mary Brandon

Her smiles, her speech, her winning way Wiles the young men's moods away.

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Class Secretary 3. Glee Club 2, 3, 4. Contest Chorus 2, 3, 4. Operetta 2, 3, 4. Interscholastic Group 2, 3, 4. History Club 3, 4, Secretary 4. Play 3. Follies Staff 4.

Talented and popular, Mary has done good work in school, especially in music and dramatic activities. She proved a very efficient secretary for the History Club.

Ralph Bruce

Let me have men about me that are fat; Yon Cassius has a lean and hungry look. A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Football 2, 3, 4. Basketball 2, 3, 4. Baseball 2, 4. Operetta 3.

Bruce has been prominent in athletics and has a lofty reputation in basketball and football.

Faye Carnahan

Faye likes to spend her time

Once a while in composing a rhyme.

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. Vocational 1, 2, 3, 4.

Somewhat inclined to poetry, and also a good worker in the home economics department, Faye has been a loyal student.

George Capen

Who trusts himself to woman or to waves,

Should never hazard what he fears to lose.

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. A. A. 3, 4. History Club 4. Hi-Y 4. Commercial Group 4.

George is an agreeable but quiet person, with little to say, but he is certain to get somewhere in the world.

Alice Willennar

The play's the thing

Wherein I'll catch the notice of the king. A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Chatterbox Staff 3, 4. Glee Club 1, 2, 3. History Club 3, 4. Contest Chorus 2, 3. Operetta 1, 2, 3. Follies Staff 4. Interscholastic Group 4.

Very much interested in public speaking and reading, Alice is often called upon to aid when programs are given. She always responds with something that is well liked.

Edith Beaty

Stay, stay at home, my heart, and rest; Home-keeping years are happiest.

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. A. A. 1, 2, 3. Commercial Group 4. Here is a girl who will make a good housewife. Everything she does is right and she may be depended upon to do good work

Virginia Bolton

My heart and fiddle are all the store That I can bring to thee.

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. History Club 4. Orchestra 2, 3, 4. Double Quartet 4.

Virginia is another of our girls well-known especially for the color of their hair. She has been a member of high school orchestra and has taken part in all the activities with interest and loyalty.

Juanita Boren

I have drunken deep of joy, And I will taste no other wine.

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. A. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Glee Club 1, 2. Commercial Group 3.

An important member of the basketball team, "Boots" has become known as a good sport and likable girl.

Lucille Courtemanche

My eyes make pictures when they are shut.

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. History Club 3, 4. Commercial Group 3. Art Department 1, 3, 4. Follies Staff 3, 4.

Lucille has been indispensable to the high school especially in art work. Her posters and her work on the annual have been truly remarkable and we don't know who will take her place.

Grover Fayler

Blow, blow, thou winter wind.

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. A. A. 1, 2, 3. Hi-Y 1. Operetta 3.

Grover is a good sport and we couldn't have gotten along without him to furnish the fun and pep.

Theron George

Hark! Now I hear it—ding, dong, bell.
A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Basketball 2.
Play 4. Operetta 3. Vice President of Class 3.

Theron is well known for his habit of being late, but he has taken a major part in high school activities, especially in the play, "The Gipsy Trail."

Thelma Grosh

Pack up your troubles in your old kitbag

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. History Club 3, 4, Commercial Group 3. Follies Staff 4.

Always pleasant and cheerful, she has done excellent work along vocational lines and has helped to put Auburn on the map.

Richard Carper

Man is the measure of things.
A. H. S. 4. Agricultural Club 4.

Richard came over to Auburn from Corunna in his last year and soon became acquainted with everyone. He is always jolly.

Letha Burtzner

Happy am I; from care I'm free!

Why aren't they all contented like me?
A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Basketball 1, 2, 3,
4. History Club 3, 4. Follies Staff 4.

You are always greeted by a cheerful laugh when you meet Letha. She is best known on the basketball floor.

Milton Clark

A man of hope and forward-looking mind.

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. A. A. A. Vocational Club 1, 2, 3, 4. Football 2, 3. Business Manager of Operetta 3. Hi-Y 4. History Club 4. Follies Staff 4.

Here is a boy who has a future ahead of him. He has been an important member of the History Club, and his ability along business lines caused him to be chosen Sales Manager of The Follies this year.

Robert Cool

Oh, to tell the truth, I am none the less human.

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Vocational 1, 2, 3, 4. Football 3, 4. Track 3, 4. Baseball 4.

Bob is a wide-awake young man and one always out for a good time.

Mary Josephine Hoff

But thou didst make the very night itself Brighter than the day.

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Basketball 4. Glee Club 1, 2. Operetta 2, 4. History Club 3, 4.

Mary Joe was particularly devoted to basketball in her last year. She is always ready for a good time and the eats, if any.

Cecil Holloway

A little sincerity dangerous is And much positively fatal!

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Operetta 1. Hi-Y 1, 2, 3. Baseball 2.

"Ce" is the jester and funmaker of our class. Nothing ever worries him and he always has a good time.

Edward Kingsbury

The word impossible is not in my dietionaru.

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Hi-Y 2. Honor Student 1, 2. Chatterbox Staff 1, 2, 3, 4. Editor 3. I. H. S. P. A. Delegate 3, 4. School play 3. Operetta 3. History Club 3, 4. Follies Staff 3, 4. Editor-in-Chief 4.

Ed is a very capable member of the class of '28 and has shown his ability in many ways. He made a success of the Chatterbox when he was its head, and the compiling of the yearbook has been under his direction.

Charles Lash

For a' that and a' that

A man's a man for a' that.

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Football 1, 2, 3, 4. Basketball 2, 3, 4. Track 1, 2, 3, 4. Baseball 3, 4.

Charlie has been a very important man in athletics, especially in basketball. His place will be hard to fill next year.

Robert Darling

And yet, believe me, good as well as ill, Woman's at best a contradiction still.

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Hi-Y 1, 2, 3, 4. Junior-Senior Play 2, 3, 4. Football 3, 4. Basketball 4. Chatterbox Staff 3. Follies Staff 4. History Club 3, 4. C. M. T. C. 3, 4.

Bob has been interested in athletics, much so in his last year. He is recognized as the chief woman-hater in Auburn High. He made a very good hero in "The Gipsy Trail."

Hilda Dunn

But now my task is smoothly done.

I can fly or I can run.

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 3. Vocational Club 1.

Hilda is a quiet and conscientious worker, always willing and ready to do her part.

Mildred Dunn

Brown eyes with a wondrous, witching charm

To bring us good or to work us harm. A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. A. A. 1, 2.

Mildred's big friendly brown eyes have made her many friends in school during her four years here. We know she will make good wherever she goes.

Erthenia Graham

She speaks, believes, and acts just as she ought.

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4, Secretary 4. Class Secretary 1. Basketball 1, 2, 3. Glee Club 1, 2, 4. Operetta 1, 2, 4. Orchestra 4. Follies Staff 4. Interscholastic Group 4. Contest Chorus 4. History Club 4.

"Tiny" was elected Secretary of the Athletic Association and did much hard work keeping its books. She also worked hard as the accompanist for the Girls' Glee Club.

Josephine Lash

There's no dearth of kindness in the world of ours:

Only in our blindness we gather thorus for flowers.

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4.

She is a person always willing and ready to do everything. When one sees her she always has a ready smile.

Walter Manon

How poor a thing is man? Alas, 'tis true.

I did forget it when I chanced on you. A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. President Athletic Association 4. Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4. Captain 4. Football 3, 4. Captain 4. Business Manager of Pledge Drive Revue 4. Assistant Manager of Junior-Senior Play 4. Operetta 3. Baseball 4.

A marvel on the basketball floor, Walter is the stand-by of our team and has helped to win many victories for Auburn High. He served the Athletic Association well as its President.

Donald Martin

A workman that needeth not to be ashamed.

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. Vocational Club 1, 2, 3, 4. Athletic Association 3. Business Manager of Operetta 4.

Donald is especially interested in agriculture and has done splendid work along this line. We are sure he will be a successful farmer.

Violet May

Kindness is wisdom. There is none in life

But needs it and may learn.

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. Vocational Club 1, 2, 3, 4. Chatterbox Staff 3, 4. Follies Staff 4. History Club 4. A. A. 4.

Violet is interested in vocational work, home economics, and all that is useful and worthy. The History Club knew her well.

Dorothy Groscop

The virtue of her lively looks

Excels the precious stone.

A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4. Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4. Operetta 1, 2, 3, 4. Contest Chorus 2, 3.

Dorothy is cheerful and smiling, always ready to help anyone and willing to do anything.

Vera Harper

My tongue within my lips I rein;

For who talks much must talk in vain.
A. H. S. 1, 2, 3, 4. Vocational Club 1, 2, 3. Secretary of Vocational Club 2. A. A. 3, 4.

Vera is a quiet reserved girl, much interested in one young man. She is prominent in vocational work.

Helen Hawk

Thine eyes are like the deep, blue, boundless heaven.

A. H. S. 4.

Ever friendly and sociable, Helen has won many friends in McIntosh during her year here.

Gladys Heffley

Senior Class History

After eight long years of preliminary flying the ninety-three aviators making up the class of '28 sighted a landing place and making all possible haste reached high school and started their long and sometimes tiresome flight to graduation. They realized the necessity of able leaders so they chose Edward Mayfield's plane to lead them with Peg Watson, Erthenia Graham and Donald Gregg to help finance the trip and to see that no accidents occurred. Miss Force was chosen faculty advisor to help each pilot learn to sail his plane successfully. The Mayfield plane was forced to order a stop once during the year when they landed in the High School Gymnasium where a Hallowe'en party was held. They took flight from this place and sailed to Hamilton Lake where they finished their first year's journey with a picnic. During this time several members of the class showed their ability in piloting their machines. Walter Manon and Erthenia Graham took an active part in basketball. Charles Lash displayed his ability on the gridiron and Edward Mayfield represented the school in the discussion contest, by going to the district meet.

After vacation the class re-assembled and elected William Husselman to lead this part of the journey. Opal Knott, Peg Watson, and Edward Mayfield were chosen to assist him. Mr. Gunther as faculty advisor served the class loyally until his resignation just before vacation, when Miss Marjorie Middleton took up his duties. A very successful Christmas party was held at the country club at the end of the year. The members of the class, becoming more efficient in their work, received more honors than they had the year before. Juanita Boren, Letha Burtzner, Vera Morr, Mary Jo Williams, Ralph Bruce, Charles Lash, Donald Sprott and Theron George took active parts in basketball and other athletic events. Edward Mayfield received higher awards in the discussion this year, taking third place in the state meet at Bloomington.

At the end of the second year's journey many inefficient pilots had lost out but the truly ambitious and those striving to reach that goal called Success, managed to keep their planes flying. The crew elected Edward Mayfield President, Theron George Vice President, Mary Brandon Secretary and William Husselman Treasurer with Dewey Sanders to accompany them as class advisor. Under this leadership and supervision a Junior Carnival was held on Hallowe'en.

At the beginning of the fourth year's journey they started with greater speed for they could see their final landing place, Graduation, a nine-months journey ahead of them. The indispensable Edward Mayfield was again elected President with Donald Sprott as his assistant. Jean Davenport was elected secretary and William Husselman had charge of the financial affairs of the class. Mr. Weathers was made class advisor to help make the last trip through high school a success Members of this year's class participated in almost every outside activity. The Seniors have now reached their last stopping off place, Graduation. They have received their diplomas and as efficient pilots will start next year on their own planes to Success.

Senior Class Activities

Not only have the members of the class of '28 piloted their machines well enough to reach graduation, but they have excelled in all phases of athletics and other extra-curricular activities as well.

Letha Burtzner, Juanita Boren, Mary Jo Williams, Mary Joe Hoff and Vera Morr have become valuable assets in girls' basketball this year. Letha has alternated from forward to side center and helped to make many a game a winner for Auburn High. Juanita and Vera were our centers and one should see them pass that ball! Mary Jo Williams and Mary Joe Hoff were the guards and surely played a wonderful game.

The boys were strong on the basketball floor this year as there were five of the class of '28 on the squad. Walter Manon, Donald Sprott, Charles Lash, Ralph Bruce and Robert Darling all had a chance to show that the team really could never have succeeded without them.

On the football squad Walter Manon, Charles Lash, Ralph Bruce and Robert Darling have showed such proficiency in their playing that their places will be hard to fill.

Donald Martin, Virgil Korff, and Thelma Grosh have won awards in vocational work.

In the discussion Edward Mayfield placed third in the zone meet at Bloomington in 1925. In 1926 he took fourth in the state contest in oration.

Martha Laird and Alice Willennar represented this class in the reading last year.

In the double quartet which won first place in the county musical contest in 1926, Opal Knott, Bertha Walter and Mary Brandon sang. This year Dorothy Groscop is entered with this group.

On the Chatterbox staff Edward Kingsbury, Opal Knott, Jean Davenport, Violet May, Alice Willennar, William Husselman and Martha Laird have helped to make the paper a success.

In the school plays, Robert Darling carried the leading role this year. Edward Mayfield, Edward Kingsbury, William Husselman, Opal Knott, Mary Brandon and Jean Davenport carried parts in the Junior-Senior Plays.

In the high school operettas, Jean Davenport, Opal Knott, Mary Brandon and Bertha Walter played leading roles in "Pickles" and "Peggy and the Pirate." Jack Gregg, Donald Sprott and Gilbert Potter carried the leading parts in the operetta this year.

As honor students Jean Davenport, Mildred Berringer, Grace Barnhart and Joanna Rhoads have ranked especially high scholastically.

The success of its members in all of these outside activities gives the class of '28 a right to be proud of its record.

Class Officers

It was largely due to the ability of these sixteen students that the planes of Auburn High School flew to such heights this year. Edward Mayfield, for the third time during his high school career, was elected to the presidency of his class. He was ably assisted by Donald Sprott, Jean Davenport and William Husselman. To Mr. Weathers, acting as class advisor, is attributed much credit for the success of the Seniors' last year in high school.

The Juniors elected Dayton Rieke to pilot them through their first year as upper-classmen. Marie Sprott was elected Vice President, Ramona Heyler, Secretary, and William McClure, Treasurer. Mr. Coar acted as class advisor and through his guidance they passed through their Junior year, successfully conducting a Junior carnival and a Junior-Senior banquet.

The Sophomore planes were led this year by Marion Trovinger. His assistants were Virginia Baker, Randall Smith, and Joanna Fink. Miss Foulke was chosen as class advisor. After this second year in high school we feel that next year they will be able to carry on the duties of upper-classmen successfully.

The class of '31 made its first appearance in high school this year. Joe Miller was elected to pilot the class with Helen Mayfield, Robert Knott and Virginia Brown to aid him. Under the supervision of Miss Hixon the first year ended successfully.

History of Classes

After eight years of preparation the class of '29 started its career under the leadership of Edison Daub. Marian Crawford, Darwin Hook and Ramona Heyler were elected to assist and did very well for just learning how to pilot their planes. Knowing that they would need an able advisor, the Freshies chose Miss Force to help them with their new duties. During this year they held a successful Hallowe'en party in the high school gymnasium. They braved all the storms of the first year's journey and celebrated their success with a picnic at Hamilton Lake. The class soon made itself known in the athletic field as it was well represented by Omar Webb, Alex King, Vernon Sibert, Herman Franz, Harvey Soerensen, Marion Grube, Irene Tarney, Ruth Pommert, Harry Hathaway, Dayton Rieke, Paul Grogg and Kenneth Myers, who took an active part in all events. After the first nine months of flying they decided to make a landing and rest for a few weeks.

After this rest, which lasted until the following September, they again entered the flying field as Sophomores. They elected Justin Roth President, Gwendolyn Rogers Vice President, Richard Madden Secretary, Anna May Endicott Treasurer and Coach Young was chosen as class sponsor. The first Hallowe'en party was such a successful affair that they decided to give another, which was equally as successful. The class was represented in music as well as athletics. Gwendolyn Rogers was a member of the double quartet which took first in the county meet. Many of their number were members of the winning contest chorus and took part in the operetta.

The year before this crew had sighted three groups of planes ahead of them. Already one of these had dropped out of sight leaving but two ahead of them while the class of '29 was gradually coming nearer its goal. On looking back they saw that other planes were entering the field. They traveled with such speed that the crew of '29 realized that they would have to speed up or soon be overtaken.

These new planes which were now entering the field were known as the class of '30. They elected Marion Trovinger to pilot them under the supervision of Miss Jane Eagles. Barbara Sanders, Jewell Darling and Lester See were chosen to assist them and did very well.

They made their first landing in the high school gymnasium for a Hallowe'en party. Lester See, Randall Smith, Harold Davidson, George Stebing, Helen Snyder, Marium Weidner and Hilda Harris went to work on the basketball floor immediately. Football, track and baseball had their share of representatives from the class of '30 also.

The success of the first year in high school was celebrated by a picnic at Hamilton Lake.

The second year's flight was not as eventful as the first, but nevertheless the class was busy. Marion Trovinger, again elected pilot, flew the machines of the Sophomores through another successful year. His assisting officers were Virginia Baker, Vice President, Joanna Fink, Secretary, and Randall Smith, Treasurer. Miss Foulke was chosen to advise them. The class was known by its exceptional ability on the basketball floor in both the first and second teams. They were well represented by Harold Davidson, Fred Quance, George Stebing, Kurt Rastenburg, Lester See, Randall Smith, John Smith, Robert Thimlar, Richard Davidson, James Balzar. Homer Freeman, Dale Cosper, Virginia Baker, Ruth Bartles, Hilda Harris and Barbara Sanders.

By this time other planes could be seen entering the field. These belonged to the class of '31. Joe Miller was elected to pilot them and Miss Margaret Hixon was chosen as class advisor to guide them through their first year in high school. Helen Mayfield was elected Vice President, Robert Knott Treasurer and Virginia Brown Secretary.

Auburn High School soon found that their class of Freshmen was eager to make itself known. Ellen Jeanette Walter, Thelma Mock, James Huffman and Edward Welch became valuable assets to the basketball teams. Virginia Brown showed her ability in music and became a member of the girls' double quartet, while many others could be found in the cast of the operetta, "Peggy and the Pirate." They never stopped during their first year until they celebrated success by an outing at Hamilton Lake the last day of school. They will not take flight until next September.

In the meantime the class of '29 was reaching its third landing place. As they expected to accomplish great things this year they elected Dayton Rieke to pilot them. Marie Sprott aided him as Vice President with Ramona Heyler acting as Secretary while William McClure took care of the finances of this trip. Mr. Coar, as class advisor, led them very ably through the many difficulties of the Junior year. Under such good supervision a very successful Junior carnival and Junior-Senior banquet were held. The members were still doing their best for the high school knowing that there was only one more year left. Dayton Rieke, Margaret Dawson and Margaret Avery represented their class in basketball. Other members of their ranks could be found in the Glee Club and operetta.

The class has now arrived at the landing field where they will rest until next September when they will start on their last journey through high school. The classes of '30 and '31 are still striving toward graduation and in a few years they, too, will reach their destination safely.

Looking Ahead

The histories of the three lower classes have been related in the past few pages. Each of these classes with the Seniors has tried to the best of its ability to make the past-year in Auburn High one of the most successful that the school has ever known. The Seniors leave us and we now wonder how those vacancies can be filled.

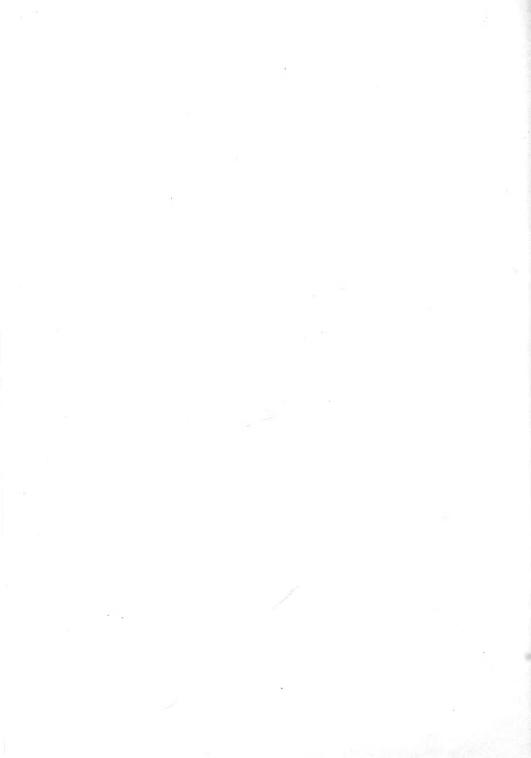

Looking back we see that the class of '29 contains members with exceptional ability. Margaret Avery and Ramona Heyler have carried leading roles successfully in High School plays and will again be here next year. Dayton Rieke and Kenneth Myers will uphold the dignity of the Seniors on the basketball floor next year, while Margaret Avery and Margaret Dawson will be a great aid to the girls' team. Mary Ann McDowell has shown her ability in the vocational work and should bring more laurels to A. H. S. next year. With the help of Margaret Avery, Darwin Hook and Ramona Heyler the publications of "The Chatterbox" and the "Follies" should still remain above the average.

In the class of '30 we have more basketball representatives in Harold Davidson, Kurt Rastenburg, Fred Quance, George Stebing and many second team players. Virginia Baker, Ruth Bartles, Hilda Harris and Barbara Sanders should also make a good showing on the basketball floor.

In the class of '31 we find Edward Welch and James Huffman starring in basketball for the boys with Ellen J. Walter, Mabel Williams and Thelma Mock representing the girls.

With these talented students Auburn should still shine in High School ranks.

Activities

Taking a steady course through school is rather dull, and the slightest cloud that may arise serves to discourage us and force us down. But if the course is enlivened by pleasant maneuvers, we are happier, take more interest in our work, and are not discouraged. We may choose these activities to suit our individual tastes, as there are many from which to select. The activities of most interest to all are Scholarship, Journalism, Art, Organizations, Music, Vocational and Interscholastic work, Dramatics, Thrift, and special work in which individuals were successful.

Editorial

For twenty-four years the Senior class of Auburn High School has published a yearbook, and the past eight have been titled "The Follies." Analogous to the publication of the Annuals has been the growth of the school, both in number of students and scope of education. This advancement is very plainly reflected in the Annuals of each year; even by a hasty inspection of them. This is as it should be, for a yearbook ought to represent the year without deviation from the real. We may smile at the graduation clothes of yesteryear, but we smile because of the ability of that publication to take us back to school twenty years ago. We are thereby recognizing the success of that book in portraying school life of the day in its natural form. We have aimed to make this Annual just as successful by setting forth a record of the school year as it has been.

The advancement of the school each year makes possible the publication of a better Annual, and we hope that we have not failed to properly make use of the opportunity given us for producing a good one.

In the publication of "The Follies of 1928" we were fortunate to have the assistance of capable helpers. Mr. Fribley was our faculty advisor in the work and his services were indispensable. The Auburn Greeting Card Company cooperated with us at all times in the printing, as did the Fort Wayne Engraving Company on photo-engraving work. The David J. Molloy Company supplied the covers. Photographic work was done principally by L. M. Jones, but much was also done by Rice's Studio. Aeroplane views of Auburn were taken by Mr. Howard Musser of Toledo, Ohio.

Honor Group

It has been the custom to select an Honor Group each year to represent the scholastic interest of the school. This year four students having the highest yearly average were selected from each of the four classes. In former years the number selected was three. The method by which they are chosen is very simple. The grade "A" counts as one point, "B", two, "C", three, and so on. The points are then added and the sixteen students having the lowest scores are chosen.

This group is not an organized body like the clubs of the high school, but is merely a representative body of scholastic standards.

Corresponding to the Honor Group of The Follies is the Honor Roll of the Chatterbox. This roll is published at the end of each six weeks period, and consists of students having two or more "A's" in their class studies. It was created several years ago to give to the students who excelled scholastically a merited honor.

Art Department

Art is a Freshman subject, studied two periods each day for one year. The course treats of the psychological facts and principles which are involved in the solution of various educational problems with special reference to art.

Some of the chief subjects studied in art are freehand perspective, drawing, color, design, and lettering.

Freehand perspective is a study in the science of perspective and the application of its principles. Drawing includes the sketching of trees in pencil. Color takes up color theories. In designing, exercises in illustration of its principles are worked out by the students. Lettering is a study of letters in designs, and their beauty, form, and origin. A study is also made of the various types of alphabets and their practical application in the way of orders for labels and signs for business.

The Art Department this year has increased in size and equipment. The students now work in room 3, where they have large work tables and plenty of floor space. Many practical projects have been produced during the year. Some very beautiful scarf designs were created. Ornamental wall hangings have been made and the class has been engaged this spring in wood carving and leather work. The department has always been useful in making posters for the school dramatics.

The fundamental purpose of the art course is to teach an appreciation of all our surroundings.

Chatterbox Staff

The Chatterbox has now seven successful years to its credit. Many improvements have been added during this time and the paper is now rated among the best of its class.

The principal members of the staff which edited the Chatterbox the first semester of this year were: Miss Sue Morton, Editor-General; Edward Kingsbury, Editor-in-Chief; Margaret Avery, Associate Editor; Edward Mayfield, Business Manager; Justin Roth, Advertising Manager; and Darwin Hook, Circulation Manager.

As in former years the Chatterbox sent delegates to the Indiana High School Press Association at Franklin. This year Miss Morton, Margaret Avery and Darwin Hook represented the paper.

At the end of the semester an election was held and a new staff was chosen. Those who took up the work then and will continue during the first semester next year are: Miss Morton, Editor-General; Darwin Hook, Editor-in-Chief; Ramona Heyler, Associate Editor; Margaret Avery, News Editor; Hilda Harris and Fred Quance, Athletic Editors; Marie Sprott, Society Editor: Anna May Endicott, Exchange Editor, and Irene Miller, Assistant; Virginia Baker, Joke Editor; Myrtle Habig and Roy Shoudel, Vocational Editors; Dayton Rieke, Business Manager; Arthur Hipskind, Advertising Manager and Paul Grogg, Assistant; and Randall Smith, Circulation Manager.

Several new officers were created this year due to the increase in work. The paper is not only growing but is also improving.

History Club

One of the most active clubs of the Auburn High School is the History Club. It was organized by Mr. Weathers in 1921, and he is still the club leader. It is composed of the students who received better than average grades in history or civics.

At the beginning of the school year the club met and elected its officers at its annual pot-luck supper. William Husselman was elected president, Opal Knott vice president, Mary Brandon secretary-treasurer, and Joanna Rhoads publicity manager. The programs were planned to reproduce the most interesting features of American History. From then on the club met bi-weekly on Wednesday nights. The meetings were carried on in a social way but a part of each program was conducted in a serious manner.

The main theme to which the programs were devoted was the featuring of interesting events in American History. By book reports, plays, and characterizations this theme was carried out.

This year the club has accomplished one of the most notable projects in the club history. This was the donation to the Lincoln

Memorial.

The club has had a successful year due to the splendid leadership of Mr. Weathers who should be congratulated upon the projects the club has accomplished with his aid. The members of the club who graduate leave this organization to be carried on by the future members with the hope that the club will be even more successful in the coming year.

Glee Club

The Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Margaret Hixon, has been more successful than ever. It has been popular at the various events and meetings, where it appeared on the program.

A week before Christmas the Girls' Glee Club together with the Boys' club went caroling about the city, singing the customary yuletide songs, "Silent Night," "O Little Town of Bethlehem" and "Deck the Halls."

At the beginning of the second semester the club was organized at the suggestion of Miss Hixon. It elected as its officers: Opal Knott President and Mary Brandon Secretary. A vice president and treasurer were deemed unnecessary. After the organization of the club several parties were held.

Some of the songs that have been the most popular with the Glee Club are "Nobody Knows de Trouble I've Seen," a Negro Spiritual. harmonized by H. T. Burleigh, "Husheen" by Mana Zucca and four American songs including "From the Land of the Sky Blue Waters," "Far Off I Hear a Lover's Flute," "White Dawn is Stealing" and "The Moon Drops Low." All these are by Charles Wakefield Cadman.

The Club is composed of members from all four classes of high school who passed a prescribed test given by Miss Hixon at the beginning of the year.

Orchestra

The Orchestra this year has been unique in that it contains twenty-two instruments, more than Auburn High School has ever had in the past. Another interesting feature that makes the orchestra unusual is that very few members are upper-classmen, the high school having received the boys and girls who composed the Junior High School Orchestra last year under the direction of Mrs. Wolfrom.

Miss Hixon, by her adequate knowledge of the various instruments, has successfully conducted the orchestra throughout the school year. It played before and during the intermission of the Junior-Senior play, "The Gipsy Trail." At this time one of the numbers which it played very effectively was the popular "Doll Dance". The orchestra also played the overture and accompanied the choruses in the operetta "Peggy and the Pirate."

During its forty-five minutes of practice twice a week the orchestra has learned music of the type of "School Spirit March," "Moonlight Serenade," "Honor Guard", and the "Old Clock."

Those who compose the orchestra are: first violins—Opal Knott, Virginia Bolton, Olive Telschow, Louise Williamson, George Sockrider; second violins—Virginia Brown, Rachel Ball, Ellen Jeanette Walters, Dorothy Palmer; saxophones—Junior Fitzsimmons, Lester See, Forrest Oiler, Luther Whetzel; clarinets—Robert Knott, Joe Sprott, John Bishop; trombone—Donald Hay; flute—Vivian Elson; cornet—Dale Doty; drums—William McClure; and, piano—Erthenia Graham.

Contest Chorus

Twenty-four voices were selected by Miss Hixon from the Girls' Glee Club to compose the Contest Chorus. A three part composition was selected, thus assigning eight voices to the part. "Hurakan, the West Wind" was the selection used. As the name suggests the theme is Indian. The music was harmonized by Harvey Worthington Loomis from Vancouver and Navajo Indian tunes. It is a very difficult number, the time and key changing in many places. In spite of the difficulty the chorus sang with the ease and vitality the selection demanded. The Chorus met Garrett at Auburn on March 23.

Members of the group are: first sopranos—Opal Knott, Mary Brandon, Jean Davenport, Martha Laird, Anna May Endicott, Frances Saltsman, Bertha Walter, Josephine Brandon; second sopranos — Joanna Fink, Dorothy Groscop, Helen Wyatt, Nellie Zimmerman, Irene Miller, LuEda Beuret, Frances Frederick, Ruth Clement; and altos—LaVon Showers, Ruth Barnhart, Naomi LaMar, Norma Roland, Virginia Baker, Emile Hord, Virginia Brown, Virginia Stimmel.

Erthenia Graham was the chorus pianist.

Interscholastic Contest

Among the literary and musical events of the school year is the Interscholastic Contest. Those who were entered to represent Auburn High School in interscholastic meets are included in the interscholastic group.

Early in March a contest between the students who wished to try out for the several events was held in the auditorium. By this means school representatives were selected. Four students competed in reading and five in piano. From these Alice Willennar was judged best in reading and Ronald Zonker in piano. Alice Willennar gave "Looking Out For Clara," and Ronald Zonker played "Caprice" by Olson. Without opposition William Husselman was made representative in the Discussion, Edward Mayfield in Oration, and Opal Knott in Vocal solo. Opal sang "My Lover is a Fisherman." The double quartet was selected by Miss Hixon, music supervisor.

The subject for discussion this year was Farm Relief. The topic for Oration was the Constitution. These two events are the most important; the county winner of each may go on to larger meets. The oratorical contest in not only national but also international. The Discussion event ends in the state contest. The other interscholastic events end with the county meet. The Discussion is fostered by Indiana University, and the Oration by the Bar Associations.

All Auburn's individual representatives were Seniors.

Commercial Group

The Commercial Group consists of Auburn High School students who have attained a high degree of efficiency in either typing, shorthand, or bookkeeping during the past year. The group is not organized for social or business purposes, but is formed to provide entrants to commercial contests and other scholastic achievements. The commercial instructors pick out the best students in the department for members of the Group.

The first commercial contest in which the Commercial Group took part this year was held Saturday, April 21, in Fort Wayne. Winners from this contest take part in the state finals at Ball State Normal School in Muncie, Indiana. Mr. Gumpp was an official in the Fort Wayne contest.

The students in the group representing the various events were: typing— Ronald Zonker, Irene Miller, Opal Knott, Norma Roland, and Virginia Lawhead; bookkeeping— Edward Mayfield, George Capen, and Grace Barnhart; shorthand— Lois Sellers, Edith Beaty, Mildred Berringer, and Letha Burtzner.

Mr. Gumpp and Miss Foulke were the capable instructors of the Commercial Group and the success attained by the students has been due largely to the efforts of these two. The instructors have introduced new methods which have greatly raised the efficiency of the entire commercial department and produced these superior students.

Manual Training

Among the subjects in which a boy may specialize is Manual Training. Mr. Cosper ably instructs this department and he has at his disposal the necessary equipment to make the department one of the best in high school.

A student in any class may take this subject but it has been considered a Freshman subject since 1919. It furnishes instructions in technical knowledge as well as in practical experience. Students spend the first semester of each school year in learning instructions in mechanical drawing. The second semester they do bench and cabinet work and wood turning. After the students have completed their required work the remainder of the time is given to the working out of original projects of their own.

The class helps the high school by making benches, repairing broken desks and chairs, and making equipment needed in the presentation of high school plays.

Perhaps one of the most interesting things the class has done is the erecting of the additional room to the shop. This new space adds to the convenience of the scholars.

Girls' Vocational Department

The Girls' Vocational Department has had a very busy year. Keen interest is taken in every phase of the work. The quality of the work continues to reach new high levels. Among the courses this year are foods, clothing, meal planning and serving, millinery, and related science.

The club work last summer included clothing, baking, canning, and health. The girls won eighteen premiums from twelve entries at the State Fair. They also won thirteen premiums out of seventeen entries at the State Club Exhibit. For the second consecutive year Auburn scored highest in Girls' Club Work in the State.

The department earned money by selling candy, and serving meals to the teachers. This money is to be used to send the local club winners to the club round-up at Purdue University in May and to equip the unit kitchen.

The girls are not only interested in their work, but in social activities as well. They entertained the Boys' Vocational Club at a hard-times party in the high school gymnasium. The main feature of the evening was the "stunts" in which the girls took active part. The girls have taken great interest in the Style Show this spring.

It was once thought that this course would be of little value to the school, but in recent years it has developed into one of the main courses offered.

Boys' Vocational Department

The ninth year of vocational agriculture has proved to be very successful. The year opened with an enrollment of thirty-nine boys who have found the work most profitable and interesting. The Freshman-Sophomore group has studied Soils and Animal Husbandry while the Junior-Senior class has had Farm Management and Agricultural Physics. These subjects have been studied on the farm as well as the school room.

School had been opened only two weeks when the Live Stock clubs in the county held their annual show. Here many honors were won for A. H. S. Donald Martin, John Kelly, Mary Ripp, Harry and Paul Provines, and Schuyler Hetrick were winners.

The county corn and potato show was held the day before Thanksgiving. Harold Yoder, Virgil Korff, Donald Martin, and Dean Lockwood were the successful contestants from Auburn.

At the State Corn and Potato Show Donald Martin was given a Purdue Scholarship for his outstanding work in various club activities. Schuyler Hetrick, Virgil Korff, Milton Clark, Dean Lockwood, and Roy Shoudel were among those placing high. Kenneth Casselman won an educational trip for having the highest yield of those using sodium nitrate fertilizer on potatoes.

Class meetings were held the second Tuesday of each month with the following officers in charge: Harold Davidson president, Robert Graham vice president and Donald Martin secretary-treasurer. A large number attended the Purdue Roundup.

The Gipsy Trail

A maid and boy hunting adventure; A persistent suitor who tries to prevent her; A wily grandmother who abets the plot To kidnap the girl and thrill her a lot. They engage a chauffeur to do the work, And though he loves her he does not shirk. He carries her away and sees it through And before it's over she loves him too.

The play was a very novel one dealing with the opposites in life; the romantic and the ordinary, matter-of-fact people of the world. Frances goes in search of adventure and gets herself mixed up in a greater one than she expected. She falls in love with an adventurer and Ned, the rejected suitor, is content with the leavings. The play is filled with unusual situations, including the kidnapping of a girl by a hired young Irish lad who succeeds in capturing the heart of his captive. Humor was added by the escapades of Johnny, the little brother of Frances. The cast for the play was:

Janet Raymond, Aunt of Frances	Opal Knott
Mr. Raymond, Father of Frances	Edward Mayfield
John Raymond, Brother of Frances	Earl Kraft
Mrs. Widdemore, Grandmother of Ned	Margaret Avery
Frances Raymond	Ramona Heyler
Ned Andrews	Theron George

In Old Vienna

In Old Vienna at Carnival Time,
A Pickle Prince and maid divine.
A widow hunting her long lost daughter;
Bewhiskered "detectiffs" who diligently sought her.
They finally found her but the pickles had "got" her.
So in spite of robbers, plotters and father,
She went with her mother and lover away
And lived happily ever after, they say.

This operetta portrayed life in Vienna at Carnival time, with its brilliant array of gypsies, dancers, and tourists. Among the tourists who visited this romantic country were Jones, the American Pickle Prince and Lady Vivian Delancy. The latter had come to search for her daughter who had been kidnapped when young. She found her only to give her up again to Jones with whom she had fallen in love. Mary Brandon and Carl Walter did the leading parts very well and were ably assisted by the remainder of the cast. Those who had principal parts were:

Special Awards

Donald Martin

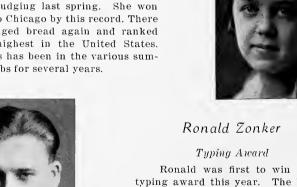

Scholarship

This year the vocational department boasts Donald Martin as a winner in its ranks. Donald is a Senior this year and the award came at a most opportune time. The scholarship provides free tuition for four years in Purdue University. For four years Donald has been a member of the Agriculture Club.

Frances Frederick

Judging Award

Frances was the third highest scoring individual in the state in bread judging last spring. She won a trip to Chicago by this record. There she judged bread again and ranked ninth highest in the United States. Frances has been in the various summer clubs for several years.

Ronald was first to win a high typing award this year. The Underwood company gives awards each month to those students most proficient in typing. Ronald made fifty words per minute in a fifteen minute test, February 2, and so was the first to get an Underwood silver medal.

Special Awards

Edward Mayfield

Oration

Edward was the successful representative of Auburn in the Oration this year. He won in the local and county meets, receiving the prize offered by the DeKalb County Bar Association. On April 13, he placed second in the twelfth district oratorical meet held at Fort Wayne.

Opal Knott

Vocal Solo

Opal brought honor to Auburn High School by winning the vocal solo in the county contest, the final contest in this event. She has won by hard work and extensive training. For two years she has had a leading part in the operetta and has been a talented member of the Glee Club, double quartet, and contest chorus.

Kenneth Casselman

Vocational Award

Kenneth won first place in the District for raising the largest yield of potatoes per acre from the use of sodium nitrate fertilizer. We should feel proud that such an honor was awarded to him. This prize consists of either a trip to Washington, D. C. or to Mammoth Cave and The Shades.

School Banking

Auburn High has made a remarkable thrift record this year. In the National Banking Contest it ranks among the first. As in preceding years, a contest was carried on among the four classes. The class having the largest percentage of students banking during a semester was to be entertained by the other classes. This rivalry aided much in stimulating a desire in the students to bank.

From the beginning of the school year each Tuesday was recognized as Bank Day. A student was appointed in each class to act as cashier.

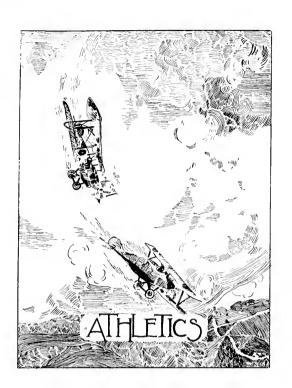

At the close of the first semester when the percentages were averaged, it was found that the Seniors had 100%. The Juniors ranked second, Sophomores third, and Freshmen fourth. Accordingly the school was entertained by the underclassmen.

The entertainment was in the form of a Christmas program, and the Christmas Play, "Why The Chimes Rang," was presented.

The second semester scores were much closer with each class banking 100% regularly.

Banking is not compulsory but it is urged that each pupil do his best to bank at least a penny each thrift morning. For some this becomes a habit, for others, a drudge, but in time it teaches the student the value of thrift, which is the important result.

The system was installed six years ago by the Auburn City National Bank. At that time the banks of many cities all over the United States began a school banking campaign. The plan has proved to be more of a success each year.

Athletics

To test and prove the superior stamina of our school our fighting squads have engaged in frequent combats with others. Their ability and success have given us a rank of considerable prestige with the rest. On the following pages we have compiled a record of those who took part in these tests of valor, both boys and girls, the former in basketball, football, baseball and track, the girls in basketball only. Noon league and interclass basketball are also included. Others who helped pilot the school to so many victories were officers of the Athletic Association and those who inspired pep on the sidelines.

Athletic Association

From Top to Bottom-Manon, Sprott, Graham, Mr. Schooley

The Athletic Association is a high school organization which sponsors all the athletic activities. It consists of members of the student body and is fostered by the members of the faculty. Its purpose is to stimulate enthusiasm in the athletic features of the school year. All students who purchase season basketball tickets automatically become members of the Association. Questions concerning problems of athletic management which arise from time to time are voted upon and disposed of by the organization.

Each year it meets and elects officers who carry on the work of the Association independently. Last fall the members met and elected Walter Manon president, Don Sprott business manager, Erthenia Graham secretary, and Mr. Schooley faculty treasurer. After each athletic meet Don Sprott usually gave the student body a summary of what happened and forcasted the games for the next week.

One of the big features of this organization is the annual gym drive for ticket sales which is conducted. Although the enthusiasm was not lacking this year, the drive was not so successful as in former years. The Seniors succeeded in selling the greatest number of tickets in the drive.

Don Sprott was unable to perform all the duties of business manager because of being on the team. During the first semester he was assisted by Fred Quance. When Fred became eligible to enter into athletics Milton Clark took his place and has efficiently executed the duties of business manager when Don Sprott was taking part in sports.

The regional tourney was again held in Auburn, and is another event which the Athletic Association has been successful in conducting.

Pep Squad

From Top to Bottom—Weaver, Darling, Rhoads, Brandon

To be successful a team must have the support of good yell leaders, who in turn can get support from the fans. Not every student can lead yells and songs in a basketball crowd, but we have fortunately found those who can. Early in the year, during the football season, the entire school was allowed to vote for cheer leaders. Wise choices were made. The leaders chosen have been popular and have earned their favor not simply by practice and ability, but by keeping the crowd encouraged and in high spirits.

"Cappy" Weaver logically heads the list of our yell leaders in the eyes of the fans as his partners were often engaged in playing basketball. Although Cappy is little larger than his big megaphone, he has been very reliable in getting response from the sidelines. He has followed the teams and worked hard.

His partners were Jewell Darling and Joanna Rhoads. Jewell's all-over pep was, without question, a big asset to the support of the team. "Jo" was lively. She never had to be urged to yell, for she made use of every opportunity.

During the year the cheer leaders conducted a contest for new yells and maintained a box for suggestions from the students. In this way variety has been put into our pep.

The singing of the school songs was conducted by Mary Brandon. In order that all might learn the words and music, every student was given a typewritten copy of the words and Mary conducted a song practice every day for a week. The result is that everyone now knows the songs much better, and they have been sung with real spirit.

The teams have been very successful this year, and certainly some credit for their achievement is due these four students.

Boys' Coach

Coach Young

To "Zeke" is due the credit for the exceptionally fine records that his team has established for the high school. He has sent three teams to the finals in the regional tourneys, being nosed out by a few points from being able to compete in state meets. He has again established the favorite fall sport, football, in our high school and made an excellent showing this year, winning three out of five games played. Under his coaching, track and baseball teams have been very successful. He has taught clean playing in all branches of athletics.

Boys' Captain

Captain Manon

Under the guidance of Walter Manon, the team this year has had a very successful season. Although he was the smallest man on the team he has proved himself the most valuable. He has been with the team for three years. His fast and heady playing on the floor has won many of our victories and with his accurate basket eye he won our way to the regional tourney. He has played the forward and floor guard position and handled each with equal ability. He will be missed by the varsity team next year, and his place will be hard to fill.

Girls' Coach

Coach Burkhead

This was "Burkie's" first year in Auburn High School but she has made a vivid record in this short time. Her girls' team lost but one game and thus tied Garrett for state championship. They broke previous records, however, and won over Peru, another state championship acclaimant. She selected a good team from the many girls who answered her call for basketball material at the first of the year and helped maintain the spirit by her excellent coaching. Her hobby was that the girls be real sports and "win that game, girls." She has made many friends by her ready smile for everyone. She certainly was a find for A. H. S.

Girls' Captain

Captain Williams

For two years Mary Jo has been captain of Auburn's girls' team and this was her third year of playing. She is a senior this year. She played guard, in which position she can not be equalled for intercepting dribbles and preventing baskets. She has guided A. H. S. to many victories and has done much to help maintain the present record of games won. Mary Jo has participated in twelve of the fifteen games and has amazed many a forward whom she was guarding by her excellent floor work and fine passing. A. H. S. loses a very reliable player in Mary Jo and one whose place will be very hard to fill next year.

Boys' Team

Dayton Rieke, "Daddy"

This was Rieke's second year with the team and he is a Junior. His size and allaround ability make him a good center.

Harold Davidson, "Davy"

When basketball players are made, Auburn High School makes them. Here is one of them. Davy has played two years and has two left. We indeed admire his fast team work and basket shooting.

Fred Quance, "Freddy"

Freddy was with A. H. S. for the first time this year, coming from Fort Wayne. He did not play the first half of the year, but the last semester he was an outstanding man.

Charles Lash, "Buck"

This is Charlie's last year on the basketball squad, and his heady playing as back guard will surely be missed.

George Stebing, "Jud"

George has been on the team two years. He has two years yet and we are glad of it. He has a great eye for the basket and is a fast player. His position on the floor is forward.

Boys' Team

Don Sprott, "Kirby"

Kirby started with the second team and worked his way up to the first squad. This is his last year. When a basket play was needed the last few minutes of the game who was more dependable than Kirby?

Ralph Bruce, "Knob"

Ralph has played basketball three years. He held his position on the floor at forward and center. We wish we had him with us another vear.

Kurt has played with the squad two years and has been a valuable man. He has two years left. Kurt played back guard this year.

Robert Darling, "Bob" This is Bob's first and last year on the squad. He did not play much this season but when he did play he surely mussed up the other

Kenny has played two years and has another left. His first year in basketball was played with the second team. This year he was on the first squad.

Summary of Season

After a week of tuning up, Coach Young sent his pilots onto the floor for the first basketball game of the season, November 4. Five men were left from last year's squadron, and with the addition of Rieke at center, the team started down the runway for a long grind. The first incident was the game at Waterloo. Waterloo was overpowered 38-9.

After another week of tuning up and making necessary changes, Auburn defeated an old rival 31-8, Albion being forced back to its own hangar.

In an unsuccessful attempt to rise from the ground Auburn was forced back to the home field, downed by Ashley 25-21. Auburn failed to make a good take-off and never succeeded in rising. This was the biggest upset of the season.

Back at the home field, Auburn was forced back to the ground after one of the most disastrous defeats of the year. Decatur overpowered the five pilots on November 23 to score a 44-24 victory.

On December 2, Butler was seen to come into sight and landed at the Alumni Gymnasium to fly away five points behind the Auburn pilots. Auburn won this game 26-21.

Coach Young decided his ship was not up to standard so he completely overhauled it, and at Angola on December 9, after an hour's work Auburn returned to the home field with a victory keg and a 29-28 victory. Manon scored the final point to humble the Angola pilots.

The following night the team came through another stormy battle. With a slow take-off Auburn rose to the clouds to be brought back to even terms with Bluffton. With thirty seconds to go, Sprott made the final point to put the local team in the lead, winning the game 23-22.

On December 16, Auburn changed its course and headed west. The first town to be seen was Garrett. Landing here, the local team scored a 29-26 victory. After this game the ship returned to its hangar to rest for a week.

Turning a little to the northwest, Auburn sighted Kendallville. Kendallville had a much better machine than the local team; Auburn was forced down early in the game to admit defeat 53-30.

After two weeks of overhauling and rearranging some parts of the ship, Auburn battled Decatur on January 6. Flying low and with the motor not functioning perfectly we were forced back to our field with a 51-22 defeat. One pilot was lost, Manon being forced out of the game with four personals to his credit.

The following night Auburn proved it had a better ship than before. Holding K-ville close to the ground through most of the game, the Auburn ship took a nose dive the last five minutes and was forced down in defeat 38-23.

Rising to the clouds after a splendid take-off, and keeping above North Side, Fort Wayne, during the whole game, Auburn won 38-19. Several pilots were out of the game on account of mumps.

With the supply of power short, the home team was forced to return January 21 for refueling, leaving behind a lost game with Columbia City, a defeat 47-31.

With several aviators back, the machine tuned up with a new motor the next week end. Flying west it bumped into Albion and defeated them 32-14. This game was on February 3.

The local team was downed by Fort Wayne. Central High was working in perfect order and crashed the local defense for a 34-25 victory.

On the night of February 10, Angola and Auburn raced down the runway to gain the lead. Both teams were evenly matched. At two minutes to go Auburn struck a rut and was forced to remain on ground while Angola turned and flew north with the victory keg and a 34-30 victory.

February 11 Auburn headed for the last two landings to be made for the season. The first was St. Joe. Using the reserve pilots and observers most of the journey Auburn scored her victory 33-25. The following week Auburn landed at Fremont and flew through the city, turned and came back with a 39-28 victory.

With a perfectly functioning motor Auburn's team soared high on February 24 and defeated Ligonier 87-8.

Auburn returned to the hangar for the rest of the season, leaving behind 11 victories and 9 defeats. Auburn scored 631 points to the opponents 573. This was one of the most successful seasons the high school has ever had.

Tournament Success

Invaded by mumps, the team was in poor shape to enter the County Tourney held at the St. Joe gymnasium on January 28. Coach Young decided to send men who had never played in any tournament before and a few of his second string men. These men were Rieke, Darling, Myers, Huffman, Welch, Quance, Thimlar, and Freeman. Saturday morning Auburn met Butler, which proved to be one of the best games of the tournament. Auburn kept ahead until the last few minutes and when the game ended the score stood 18-18. In the overtime period, Butler scored points to nose out the local team 21-18. This was the first tourney we had lost for four or five years. Good material was shown in this game for the coming players of the high school.

Playing a great brand of basketball in her last few games on the schedule, Auburn entered the Sectional Tourney held at the new Garrett gymnasium on March 2 and 3. The local team met Garrett at seven-thirty Friday night and one of the best games in the tournament was witnessed then. Auburn scored 14 points to Garrett's 5 in the first half. Garrett came back the second period to hold the locals to three points while they were scoring 10 points, the game ending 17-15 in Auburn's favor. Auburn was slow in the offense, and passing was not very good.

With Ashley winning over the Jefferson Center quintet, she met Auburn in the last game on Saturday morning. This, like the game Friday night, proved to be a thriller with Auburn on the long end when the time was up with a score 18-16. Earlier in the season Ashley had defeated the locals four points, but with better basket shooting Auburn was able to hold the lead in the tourney.

In the last game in the afternoon Auburn met the Larwill players. These boys were much larger than the locals but were not able to stop the speedy offense of Auburn. The first half ended 13-13, but with Auburn tightening her defense and playing better basketball in the second period, the locals defeated them 31-23. This gave Auburn the right to meet Butler in the finals at night. Butler had defeated the best contender for sectional honors, Columbia City, in the first game in the morning.

Butler showed amazing skill in handling the ball and shooting and as a result the Auburnites were forced on every play. Butler scored the first three baskets but with Manon calling time to talk things over, the team came back to score and to gain the lead. Auburn led by one point at the half which ended 16-15. Butler came back the second half to make their last bid for sectional honors only to lose out in the final minute of play. With about 20 seconds to go, Manon sank the field basket to let the local team carry off the sectional honors again, just as the year before. We won the game by a one point margin, 27-26.

Winning this tourney gave Auburn the right to enter the Regional Meet held here the following week. Three games were played in which the following teams participated: LaGrange, Kendallville, Angola and Auburn.

In the first game on Saturday afternoon Angola met LaGrange and won over them after five minutes of overtime playing. The game ended 21-18, thus leaving the Angola quintet to compete in the finals to be held at night. In the second game Saturday afternoon Auburn met Kendallville. With a series of long shots and follow-ups which could not be intercepted, Kendallville displayed wonderful basketball again and nosed out the local team to a 21-12 victory. In the finals Kendallville was again the winner, defeating Angola 27-20. This gave them the right to enter the state meet to be held at Indianapolis the following week. Kendallville again made a remarkable record this year and Auburn joins them in praising their team. This was Kendallville's second year to go to the state meet. They were nosed out in their first game by Bedford on Friday morning.

Individual Records

Captain Manon of Auburn High School's varsity basketball team was the most defensive and offensive man for the year of 1927-28. He ranked first in Auburn's scoring combination and was followed closely by Rieke, center, and Quance, guard.

Manon scored fifty-nine field goals and put thirty-three free throws through the net totalling one hundred and fifty-one points for the year. His nearest rivals were Rieke with a total of one hundred and fifteen points, and Quance with ninety-four to his credit. Quance, however, played only half the season.

Individual records for the first eleven players are:

	Games	Field	Personal	Free	Total
Player	Played	Goals	Fouls	Throws	Points
Manon	20	59	32	33	151
Davidson	18	29	20	30	88
Rieke	20	50	44	15	115
Stebing	14	34	15	21	89
Lash	20	11	56	4	26
Sprott	16	12	18	7	31
Quance	9 .	35	25	24	94
Bruce	15	11	13	1	23
Darling	10	2	8	1	5
Myers	8	1	5	2	4
Rastenburg	9	1	6	3	5

Girls' Team

Letha Burtzner, "Bert"

Although Letha's regular position was forward she could play any position on the floor. She was good at all of them. This was her last year on the squad and she leaves a difficult place to fill.

This was "Boots'" fourth and last year on the team. The position of side-center is now left vacant. This will mean hard work for some one for Juanita's record will be hard to equal.

Vera Morr, "Red"

"Red" is a senior who has played three years in the position of center. She is known for her clean playing and quietness.

Here's a Sophomore. She made 270 points out of the team's 474. Of course she will be back again next year.

Mary Joe Hoff, "Dode"

As a new member on the team Mary Joe has proved most valuable. She plays guard and very good basketball. This is her last year in A, H. S.

Girls' Team

Margaret Avery, "Marge"

Coach Burkhead still has "Marge" left for another year. She has stopped many dribbles, thus preventing possible baskets.

Lois Sellers, "Red"

Lois is a senior who has fought for A. H. S. two years. She was a good dependable guard who was always available when needed.

Ruth is another of our players who always does her best. Much is expected from her in the next two years.

Joanna Rhoads, "Jo"

Although known as a good yell leader, "Jo" has much talent at forward. She has plenty of fight and determination and this with good head work makes her an outstanding player.

"Mike" played both forward and sidecenter very creditably. She is one of our big hopes for next year.

Summary of Season

The Auburn girls completed a most successful basketball season. They won 12 out of 13 games and tied two others. Their one defeat was by the Garrett girls, who, in turn, were defeated by the Auburn team in a return game. Two games were tied; since there was no agreement made before each game the tie could not be played off.

The squad was practically the same as last year. The first six players, mostly seniors, were: Morr '28, Boren '28, Burtzner '28, Harris '29, Williams '28, and Hoff '28. The others who played were Avery '29, Sellers '28, Rhoads '28, Dawson '29, Bartles '30, Grube '29, Walters '31, Lige '30, Darling '30, Sanders '30, Mock '31, Baker '30, and Williams '31.

It is customary for the Athletic Association to give sweaters to the girls who have shown the best merit on the squad. Those to whom sweaters were given this year are: Hilda Harris, Mary Joe Hoff, Margaret Dawson, Lois Sellers, and Mabel Bartles. Six of the girls already had sweaters. They are: Letha Burtzner, Juanita Boren, Mary Jo Williams, Vera Morr, Margaret Avery, and Joanna Rhoads.

The first game of the season was played Friday night, November 4, with Waterloo here. This game gave the Auburn fans an idea of the capability of the team. The game was slow for both teams and was easily won by the score 34 to 6. The next week's game was another easy eventless contest with St. Joe. This ended with the score 34 to 4.

As both of the former games were held here we had the next one at Ashley. This was very interesting; the Auburn sextet was held to a tie score of 30 to 30.

On November 23 the Peru girls came to Auburn. This was one of the big games of the season. Neither team would be defeated and again the score ended a tie, 28 to 28.

The fifth game was with New Haven here. Practically all of the Auburn girls played in this game and won by an easy score of 25 to 9.

Again on the tenth of December our rivals played Auburn. Auburn's playing proved too much for them and Ashley was defeated by a score of 50 to 11.

The last game before Christmas was played with the fast Garret team at Garrett. This was a hard game and the Auburn girls met defeat for the only time this season by 34 to 21.

Promptly after vacation playing commenced again, the first victory being with Wabash. The game was played there and ended 19 to 25.

On January 13 the most eventful game of the season was played. The victory was won by the locals after a hard battle with Garrett, 28 to 23.

Next came the Wabash game here and, like the former game

there, it was a close one. The "Snowballs" were very fast but were forced to a defeat of 33 to 30.

The next two games were with Columbia City. The first was played there and ended 40 to 22. On February 4 they came to Auburn and were defeated 42 to 21.

The Fort Wayne General Electric Industrials were conquered February 10, the score being 40 to 32.

On February 17 the Auburnites went to Peru and triumphed over the "Tigeretts" by a score of 10 to 15.

The last game was played here with Ligonier. That team met defeat at Auburn's hands, 30 to 12.

The number of field points scored during the year was 430. Forty-four foul shots were made out of a possible ninety free throws. The entire score for Auburn was 474 and the opponents scored 285.

Individual Records

During the entire season fifteen games were played. The three girls who participated in each of these games were: Juanita Boren who played side-center, Letha Burtzner and Hilda Harris who played forward. The three ranking next were: Vera Morr, who played in fourteen games, Mary Joe Hoff, who played in fourteen, and Mary Jo Williams who played in twelve. The individual records of all the team are as follows:

Name of Player	No. Games	$Field\\Points$	$_{Points}^{Foul}$		Personal	$Total\ Fou!s$
Letha Burtzner	15	152	24	2	14	16

Spring Sports

At Coach Young's call for baseball and track men last season a good many responded. Most of the old men reported and were given intensive workouts immediately. Practice was slowed up some when the track became very muddy, which made running very difficult. For two weeks the candidates reported after school each night. Some of the cld men with us again in 1928 are Lash, Stebing, Thompson, and Davidson.

In the first baseball game last year Auburn was victorious by one run. The game was not a very good exhibition of baseball, each pitcher allowing many hits. Due to many errors made on both sides the game was not very interesting. Waterloo scored eight runs to the locals' nine. This game was played on the ninth of April.

The following week Aubnrn played Ashley and was able to hold them to no runs, defeating them 3-0. Tight defensive work was displayed on both sides with neither making very many errors. Grogg pitched an exceptionally good game from the mound, allowing only three hits during the whole game.

In a field meet held at the Kendallville track grounds on May seventeenth, Auburn placed third. The teams that participated in the meet were Kendallville, Albion, Auburn, Garrett, and Wolf Lake. Kendallville ranked first followed by Albion, with Auburn taking the third position.

Saturday, April twenty-third, Auburn took third in a triangle track and field meet held at Auburn. Garrett, Kendallville, and Auburn participated in this meet. Myers and Lash scored first and second places respectively in the half mile with Teeters placing third in the mile. Funk placed second in the shot-put and Stebing placed third in the 220 yard dash.

In the invitational track and field meet held at Goshen, Anburn was able to capture only one position. Lash was nosed out of second place by a few yards in the mile. He was the only man who scored for the local high school.

On April twenty-ninth, Anburn was defeated in her second baseball game with Ashley by a large margin, the final score being 9-1. A great many errors were made on the part of Auburn. Davidson scored the only run, in the third inning. Grogg and Funk were the moundsmen for the local nine.

In the final track meet of the season on May seventh, Auburn was again defeated by Garrett. This was the county track meet held at Robbins' baseball park. Only two teams competed as the others withdrew because of the lack of representatives. Garrett scored fifty-five points to the locals forty-four. Scoring the last three events put Garrett ahead with a safe lead of eleven points. This was the second time in the season that the Garrett track men defeated the local high school's runners.

In the sectional meet held at Fort Wayne, Lash was nosed out of second place in the mile by two feet. His time was 4:40.

On May thirteenth, the Auburn team played its last game of the season in baseball with Butler. They won by a score of five to one. Grogg pitched for the local team and allowed very few hits.

These two sports have benefited those boys who have not made the football or basketball squad. A great many men are needed in this type of sports, which gives more men a chance to participate in athletics. More become interested and consequently more students attend school. New records are continually being made in these high school events and more competition is developed each year.

Letters are awarded to these men for their work. More letters are given out in track than baseball.

Baseball has not taken a firm grip in the athletic program. A few years ago it was dropped completely for a while. Coach Young has attempted to revive the game and so far has made a very successful effort. He has won three out of the four games played. Much is expected of the team in the future.

This year, several men are back on the baseball and track squads and a better showing will be expected of them than that of last year. After the tourney this year, Zeke called for men for these branches of athletics. Almost all the former men reported and several new men joined the squad. Lash, who has run the mile for the last three years, will again compete. This will be his last year. He has made a good record. He placed in the Kendallville meet, the county meet, the Goshen invitational meet, and the sectional meet held at Fort Wayne.

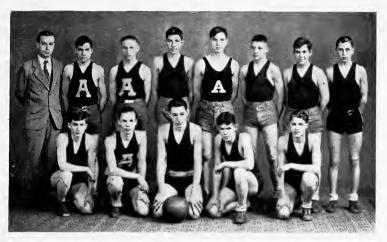

Most of the material of this year has a year or two to go, and in the future a very remarkable track and baseball team is predicted. Owing to the fact that more men are participating in this branch of athletics, new records are expected to be made in the mile, half mile, hundred yard dash, and the high jump.

Fall and Winter Sports

Years ago Auburn claimed the title of state champion in football after defeating every team in the northern part of the state. Then about 1912 the sport was dropped from the school's athletic program and was not reestablished until Leitzman became coach.

As interest in the game increased Auburn developed better teams. Attendance at games became larger, bringing in enough money to pay the expenses and to send the team to distant towns for games.

This year the local team won three games out of the five played.

On September 15, Auburn headed south to play Decatur in the first meet of the season. By an intercepted pass, Davidson scored the only touchdown during the game, thus leaving Auburn in the lead at the end. Auburn won this game 6-0. The teams were very well matched but by superior running on the part of the local players, they gained more ground than the opponents.

In the second game of the season, Auburn was defeated 13-0 by Columbia City. That team had a strong line and a fast backfield which plunged through the local's defense in the second and third quarter.

The following week Auburn scored a victory defeating North Side of Fort Wayne 25-0. This was North Side's first year in the game but her players showed remarkable skill. Manon, Davidson, and Rieke were the men who scored in this game. Manon succeeded in crossing the line twice and making many gains during the game.

Serious injury forced Manon, our star quarterback, out of the Kendallville game on Saturday, October 15. This game resulted in a 31-0 loss. It was played in a mass of mud which slowed up the game. Prentice crossed the line three times to lead his team to victory.

In the final grid game of the season Auburn defeated Stryker, Ohio, 16-6. Not much speed was shown, however, in this game; Coach Young substituted most of his second string in the last quarter. Many of these players were Freshmen who will make the Auburn High School team in the future years.

Auburn took fourth place in the Northeastern Indiana Conference of football teams. The following teams belonged to this conference: South Side of Fort Wayne, Central of Fort Wayne, North Side of Fort Wayne, Huntington, Decatur, Bluffton, Garrett, Kendallville, Columbia City, and Auburn. South Side of Fort Wayne took first place in the conference by playing one conference game and winning it. Auburn High School took fourth place being nosed out of third place by Kendallville. The purpose of this association is to make the teams become better acquainted with each other's style of playing, promote competition among the schools, and establish a better feeling toward each other. A same kind of organization will be established next year. The following teams have been scheduled for the Auburn High School's fall calendar: Decatur, North Side of Fort Wayne, Central High School of Fort Wayne, Bluffton, Garrett, and Kendallville. Some others may be added in the future but thus far the above have been the only to accept the open dates.

Under the supervision of Donald Coar, the basketball second team passed a fairly successful season, winning three games out of six played. Mr. Coar is the mathematics instructor, and after school hours has put in his time coaching the second string. The purpose of this team is to furnish athletic participation to more men than otherwise could play and to pick material for the following year's team. Most of the men on this year's squad were Freshmen and Sophomores. Welch and Huffman were the two outstanding stars of this team, being the high point men for the year.

LaGrange was the first to play the second string on December 3 when the Auburn five were forced down in defeat 38-19. Stage fright and nervousness were the main causes for the locals' defeat.

The following week Auburn was again defeated by the Angola squad, 25-28. Much improvement was shown in this game. Auburn was nine points behind with three minutes to go when a sudden rally was started. They were three points behind at the sound of the gun.

On December 22, the team again bowed to a visiting team and this time it was to Kendallville. This was lost by the score of 20-30.

On February 3, the Auburn second team won its first game, defeating Albion 27-17. Exceptionally good passing was featured here and good basket shooting was also staged. This game was played on a very small floor which handicapped the locals considerably.

In the last game away from home the local second string men were again victorious, winning over Fremont by a score of 32-20. Welch, the Freshman forward, was the outstanding player, having scored most of the points.

On February 25, Auburn was able to walk away from Butler's second team by a score 32-30. There were four Freshmen who starred in this game; they showed skill in handling the ball. They are the future basketball players for the local high school.

Seated—Fayler, Clark, Holloway Kneeling—Korff, Cool, Zonker, George

Interclass Basketball

Interclass basketball was played in the Alumni Gymnasium each Thursday and Friday throughout the winter by teams composed of boys who were unable to make the varsity. Each team played a schedule of fifteen games, closing the season on March 22. The Seniors won the championship by winning all games except one lost to the Freshmen by one point overtime.

Exceptionally good games were played by these teams, the Freshmen and Sophomores fighting hard all the way for third place. Both teams succeeded in winning five games out of fifteen played, thus tying for third. The Juniors easily took second place by winning seven games and losing eight.

Members of the championship team were: Robert Cool, Milton Clark, Virgil Korff, Grover Fayler, Ronald Zonker, Robert Terry, Theron George, and Cecil Holloway. These men played a good brand of basketball. The excellent passing staged by them was the principal cause for defeating the teams they played. Excellent cooperation among the players was exhibited, and with the aid of Zonker, star pivot man, this team succeeded in winning fourteen games. This is a remarkable record for a class team.

Members of the Junior squad were: Roth, Steininger, Hetrick, Walters, McClure, Madden, and Murphy. Sophomores were: Shoudell, Groscup, Cool, Daub, Franz, Kraft, Blum, and Thompson. The Freshmen were: Smadel, Gregg, Link, Myers, West, Bishop, Carnahan, and Brandon.

Cool, Dirrim, Kraft, Smadel, Korff

Noon League Basketball

Noon league basketball games were played every Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday during the winter. The teams were organized under the supervision of Mr. Coar and Coach Young, and each was given the name of a college in Indiana. The aim of the league was to create more interest in high school athletics and give every boy a chance to participate in basketball. Any boy not playing on the varsity squad was eligible for these teams.

Student interest in the games ran high, as shown by the number attending daily. Many exciting games were played and in March four teams claimed a standing of first place. It was therefore necessary to play off the tie on March 22 and 23. In the finals Wabash and Butler clashed. The Wabash players were crowned champions of the noon league when they won by a three point margin, with the final score 10-13.

The four teams tying for first place were Wabash, Butler, Purdue, and Hanover. DePauw captured fifth place with Notre Dame taking sixth. Three teams tied for seventh place in the league and these were Indiana, Earlham, and Manchester, with Muncie Normal taking last position. Muncie Normal won only one game during the season.

Members of the victorious team were: Korff, center; Kraft, forward; Dirrim, forward; Smadel, floor guard; and Cool, back guard.

Prospects for Next Year

Auburn High School has many men left for the future athletic teams. There are only a few Seniors who graduate this spring who have participated in athletics. They are: Robert Darling, in football, basketball, and track; Walter Manon in football, basketball and baseball; Charles Lash in football, basketball, basketball and track; Don Sprott in basketball; Ralph Bruce in football, basketball and baseball; and Robert Cool in football.

In the latter sport, the majority of the players this year were Sophomores. Rieke, Myers and Madden will be back next year to carry their positions as they did this year. The Freshmen showed such ability that much is expected of them next year. Some Freshmen who have been prominent are Fitzsimmons, Welch, and Huffman.

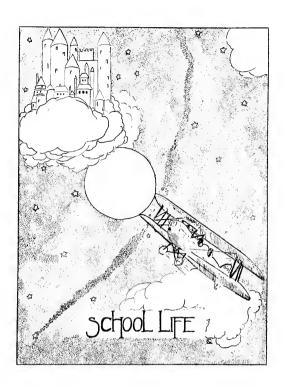

In basketball, the team loses heavily. Five men graduate, but Rieke, Stebing, Davidson, Quance, and Rastenburg will carry the colors next year. These men have been on the squad two years and have done very fine work this year. Manon, Sprott, Lash, Darling and Bruce will not be seen in action again. Five Freshmen from this year's second team will probably constitute the reserves.

Track and baseball will lose very few, as these teams are composed of Freshmen and Sophomores. The men who have been on the squad this year will be back again next year, so excellent records should be made. In baseball, Bruce and Darling will need to be replaced and in track, Cool, Lash, and Darling.

The teams this year have made excellent showings and, as they have had Sophomores on the squad, the team for the future looks promising. Freshmen, especially, promise the school excellent teams for the future.

The prospects for another girls' basketball team which will hold the same record as previous teams look very favorable. Although the Seniors take with them five of the first team and two first class subs, there is still some excellent material left.

Those who will be with us next year are: a first team forward, Hilda Harris; a dependable guard, Margaret Avery; and a good center, Ellen Jeanette Walters. Others are Marion Grube, Mike Dawson, Ruth Bartles, Thelma Mock, Mabel Williams, Jewell Darling, and Barbara Sanders. No doubt others will come into the lime light next year. More scalps for A. H. S. and another girls' team which will hold a record similiar to those of the past are assured.

School Life

Our trip through high school is after all a very rapid flight. We have passed through four flying years before we realize it. We are learning fast, but do not appreciate the pleasure of the course of instruction until we have finished it and come to apply the knowledge in a practical way every day. It is the purpose of this entire book to record the happenings of high school days, and it is therefore very appropriate to set apart the following pages as a special record of school scenes: laboratories, picnics, and events that have a particular significance or memory about them.

Superintendent's Office

The Superintendent's office is always sought when students want to use the adding machine or the paper punch. Here is where we borrow the scissors, a ruler, colored chalk, or some paste. To make a long story short, it's a handy place and a very busy one.

Freshman Reception

Every year the three upper classes welcome the new students at a Freshman Reception held in the auditorium. Here the Senior president and secretary present the keys of Auburn High School to the Freshman president and secretary, as shown in the picture.

Basketball Practice

Every afternoon after school the basketball players report to Coach Young for practice. They have about two hours coaching in special plays, foul-shooting, and all the arts of the game. Here is the first team in real action during the last night's practice before the Regional tournament.

The botany, physical geography and physics classes all share this roomy laboratory. In addition to the five tables, there are chairs for recitation. Connected with the laboratory is a large and well-stocked supply room and a small room used for gas experiments and radio reception.

Hookey Wagon

Mrs. McDonald is the attendance officer and her Hookey Wagon is well known by those who like to skip school. Her territory includes the entire county so she is not often seen here, but nevertheless she has brought Ed Mayfield and Gilbert Potter to school.

Commercial Room

Accountants, bankers, auditors, and treasurers are trained in this room. The Senior bookkeeping classes study here under the supervision of Mr. Gumpp. The room is also occupied by a large class in shorthand. On the left is the door to the typing room.

Hamilton Lake

Auburn High School is fortunately located within an hour's drive of many beautiful lakes. One of these is usually selected for the class picnics of the last day of school. Such sports as swimming, fishing, rowing, and skating are enjoyed at Hamilton Lake, shown here.

Visual Education

Almost every class in high school now makes extensive use of moving pictures for education. The school owns a good picture machine and screen, and the lecture room is used as the theatre. The projector is operated by any of a few faculty or student operators.

Art Room

This is the first year that the art department has had the amount of room it needs. Under the supervision of Miss Sellers the students have made excellent progress and this is evident from looking at the wall hangings and posters on the wall.

Press Convention

Each year the Chatterbox and Follies send delegates to the Indiana High School Press Association Convention held at Franklin, Indiana. The convention is usually held in October, and the delegates have a pleasant and profitable trip. Here are this year's delegates enjoying pretzels along the way.

History Club

One of the liveliest organizations in school is the History Club, composed of upper classmen. The club is sponsored by Mr. Weathers and meets every other Wednesday night. A program is given and in the picture the committee is presenting a leap year wedding ceremony.

Wood Shop

The manual training course is given in the "Wood Shop" located on the Harrison school grounds. The department is supplied with good equipment and is very efficient. During the past summer an addition was built to the shop, greatly increasing its size. Several boys are shown painting the addition.

Model Apartment

Probably many students do not know that our home economics classes possess a small apartment within the school building. It is nicely furnished and would make a very pleasant place to live. This picture is of the cozy dining room, one of four rooms.

Typing Room

The students take great interest in the subject of typing. Competition is furnished by graphs showing each pupil's speed and by tests in which awards may be won. To cultivate even touch the classes type to music from the phonograph in the center, rear.

The Pledge Drive Revue was given in April this year, and was combined with the Thrift program to make a longer and better performance than is usually given. Here the characters of the Revue are holding a rehearsal and receiving instructions from Walter Manon, their manager.

The Bulletin Board

What havor there would be if the bulletin board should disappear for a day. Each student has a habit of pausing to read the bulletins every time he passes it. There is always a big rush when a noon league schedule is newly posted.

The Zero Hour

When we're trying to start the day right, our first period teacher says, "You're on the list to go to the office." Here a crowd is waiting to explain an absence, tardiness, or delinquent excuse, and hoping to get a white slip instead of a yellow one.

Athletic Field

This gives you an aeroplane view of the grand stand and field where Auburn High School's outdoor athletic contests take place. According to the demands of the occasion, the field is used as a track or baseball diamond in the spring and as a football griding in the fall.

Candy Stand

Every day at four o'clock Edith Refner has charge of the home economics candy stand at the foot of the main stairway. During the year the stand has become a busy place, and has been a financial aid to the department.

Ninth Period

"As ye sow, so also shall ye reap," which means that if you are often tardy you stay after school each night for a week. This time is supposedly for studying lessons, but magazines and newspapers are generally in use more than textbooks.

NEW INSTRUMENT MELTS ICEBERGS

Dr. Gilbert Blosser Potter, by experiment, has found why it may kill a person to throw a big dictionarv at him.

An unabridged dictionary, striking a person suddenly, will cause 150 pounds (an average man) to move 2 ft. 9 inches in one-eighth of a second. In a whole second the 150 pounds would move 22 feet. So the dictionary has acted with six horsepower on the man,

Think what six horsepower will do. If turned into electricity it would light 112 ordinary light bulbs. If used to heat water, it would produce in an hour 3.867,264 calories of heat, or it would change 5469.96 g, of ice into steam. This equals 12.059.073.816 pounds. and the steam would fill 53,365.46 cubic inches, Or, all the glaciers and icebergs of the Earth, estimated to weight 155,111,604,000 tons could be melted at this rate (which is 85.247702144 pounds per hour) in 25,725,-292.271.638.764 hours and 7 minutes, or 1.071.887.177.-984,948 days, 12 hours, and 7 minutes.

Dr. Potter says that must be the reason a hurled dictionary hurts.

Scientist Makes Great Discovery

Charles Lash, a Senior of Melntosh High School and a scholar of the sensational eld pedagogue Ali Baba, has revealed a very startling discovery which shall be of benefit to all mankind to dumb animals. Mr. Lash, being of a philanthropic nature has condescended to release his secret to the world rather than to profit

Heretofore, all clothes that were worn when eating eggs had to be discarded because of the egg and gravy tracks. To Mr. Lash we owe our deliverance from this situation, for he has so completely removed such stains that they will never be visable, even to a powerful microscope.

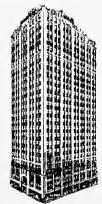

His instructions are: (1) obtain a sharp pair of scissors; (2) very carefully cut the fabric around the stained portion; (3) lift out the stained portion with the thumb and first finger, and (4) burn the stained portion.

There is only one disadvantage, and it is negligible. That is the hole left by the process. The holes can be easily disposed of, however, by feeding them to moths. The moth will eat the holes.

BREAKS WORLD TYPING RECORD

Word has just been received by freight that Jack Gregg, an Auburn student, will get a free four-year course at the State Reform School for his recent typing speed on a Smithwood typewriter. Jack claims the most outstanding record ever achieved in an actual speed test.

Jack is very proud of his skill and says his record is due to concentration as solid as ivory. He has been a typing student of the Amalgamated Correspondence Schools for six years. His record may be due to the fact that the lessons all went to the Dead Letter Office, and the mail man never brought the illustrated, high priced diploma that Jack ordered by air mail.

Be that as it May, June, or July, here are the statistics of his 15 minute They have probably never been duplicated before and probably never will. He wrote 1415 strokes, which is 283 words. On this one page of copy he made 109 errors, which deducts 1090 words from the 283 Then dividing this number by 15 minutes his speed was negative 54 words per minute. Indeed Jack deserves his reward for every few people could obliterate the alphabet at the rate of 54 words per minute.

containing the money.

The site which has been selected for the building is the land where the high school flag pole now stands. The skyscraper will be a marvel of building perfection; that is, nothing ever like it.

Forty-five stories in height, it will be entirely of wood construction. In order to satisfy an old custom the building will be painted red, so that it can be a real red schoolhouse. The fire marshall has said, "The new building will surely be the finest fire trap of its kind." It will be heated by a furnace in the cellar. This will be cheaper than any other plan.

The contract for the building was let to the Manual Training department and the shop boys will build it and get grades for their work as usual. It will probably be sawed out by hand at the wood shop, and then hauled to its site and glued together by sections. Mr. Cosper predicts that with good results the building will be ready for occupation by the class of 1989.

Inasmuch as the skyscraper will be built as class work, and store boxes will be used for lumber, the low cost of seven and a half million dollars is possible. This price is quoted without ink-wells.

We congratulate the Scniors upon this wise disposal of their cash. At least, that is safer than leaving it in the top desk drawer on the right hand side, near the back, behind the notebooks, and in a canvas bag, tied shut with a string. The building would not have been possible without school banking. So, we might say. "A penny every Tuesday will build a skyscraper in sixty-one years."

Poor Richard should have said: "Don't buy rubber tubing by the yard; the clerk may stretch it."

PLAN EXPEDITION TO FRIGID ZONE

Professors Schooley and Hornaday of Auburn High School have announced that they will start on an exhaustive expedition into the frozen and baren regious of the Amazon Valley of South America. Or, they may go to the wilds of central Kentucky. They haven't decided which, but they will go next month. Where they go will probably depend upon where they end up.

The trip will be made on foot, except for what rides they can bum from tourists

The Professors expect to find lots of several things, it depends on where they go. They are not sure how long they will stay, it depends on where they go. They may use guns or hows and arrows, it depends on where they go.

Ronald Zonker in history class related a story about Jefferson and Washington. The former was very much against having two legislative bodies. One day while dining with Washington he poured his coffee into his saucer.

"Why did you do that?" Asked Washington.

Jefferson replied, "To cool my coffee."

"That is why," retorted Washington, "we have two legislatures."

"So" concluded Ronald, "we have the Senate and the House of Representatives."

"What for?" asked Mr. Weathers, "To cool coffee?"

Lester See: "Do you know what I like best about you?"

Myrtle Habig: "No, what is it?"

----:-

Lester: "My arm!"

Betty Borst (reading Chaucer): "He was a lover and a crusty old bachelor."

Mr. Weathers: "If you took an old pair of your father's trousers and burned them with $25 in the pocket, what would become of it?"

Manon: "You mean, what would become of me."

"I've swallowed my collar button," gasped the grocer.

"Well," responded his wife," you know where it is anyway!"

We Are Satisfied When You Are

Perhaps at first thought you'll conclude that we define a profitable transation in terms of dollars and cents to us. That is not true. For while the money problem is a factor not to be overlooked, the fact remains that only as a purchase is profitable to you is it of lasting satisfaction to us. We are determined to make this store so right at every point that whenever you buy anything here—and especially after you get home and use it—you'll feel more satisfied than ever to trade here.

Jokes

Ed Mayfield had stayed after school to finish a French Test. When he had to leave, his paper was still unfinished, so he wrote at the bottom, "Six fifteen. I quit." When the paper was returned he found written in red pencil — "I don't blame you, I would too," and he got a passing grade!

Don Sprott (talking about Ed Mayfield's accident) — "Yeh it busted up a lot of things. The wheels were smashed, and Dale Kimmell went through the windshield and busted his radiator." Poor Dale! But he may recover!

Miss Dawson: "I won't always be with you to say what you mean; at least, I hope not!"

Someone (under breath): "So do I."

WE want you to know that we appreciate your trade and that we are constantly endeavoring to merit your continued favor.

Success in the drug business, largely and rightly depends upon public confidence, and therefore a growing trade is in a sense a personal compliment to the druggist. Our business grows steadily all the while and this growth is, we believe, due to the effort constantly made to conserve the interests of our customers.

We trust that your experience in trading here has been such as to justify you in giving this store the preference whenever possible, for we are constantly striving to be worthy the honor of being "your druggist."
